DETAILED ACTION

1. The Amendment and the Terminal Disclaimer filed on 10/20/03 are acknowledged. Claims 47-58 are pending in the application.

Response to Amendment

2. In response to the amendment the examiner withdraws rejections of the previous Office action and set forward rejections on the new grounds.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 47-48, 52-54 and 58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the protocol "Ziehl-Neelsen stain for AFB" (1999, adapted from references dated 1982, 1951).

The protocol discloses a method for a gentle dewaxing of a biological sample prepared for staining by heating slides in slide dryer to facilitate dewaxing, taking sections to water and draining the slide. All procedures take place in water, with "minimal exposure to organic solvents". Heating slides in slide dryer to facilitate dewaxing followed by placing the slides in water inherently comprises melting wax for its removal.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 49-51 and 55-57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Protocol in view of Bansbach et al. (CA 1059744 A).

Protocol does not specifically disclose using detergents in water for removing paraffin.

Bansbach teaches a method of removing paraffin deposits from oil wells by treatment with hot aqueous solution containing oxyalkylated surfactant.

It would have been obvious for anyone of ordinary skill in the art to slightly modify the Protocol by adding oxyalkylated surfactants into water, since Bansbach discloses advantages of adding such surfactants into water for removing paraffin deposits. It would have been obvious to use any of standard oxyalkylated surfactants of claim 51.

Response to Arguments

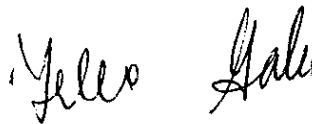

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 47-58 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
